People Quit Too Soon.
People Can Do More Than They Think.
People Need The Skills To Keep Going.

Jeff knows there are five reasons people quit too soon. He'll show your organization and audience how those five reasons show up in their business and their lives and will give them the tools to work through their challenges, achieve more and create better results.

In Jeff's presentation "The Five Reasons People Quit Too Soon and How To Stop Doing It" your audience will learn . . .

- * Why we all quit too soon.
- * How to achieve more than you thought possible.
- * How doing a little bit more leads to achieving a lot more.
- * How vision, commitment and desire are the keys to stop quitting and overcoming challenges.
- * How to create ongoing success as a way of working and life.

Testimonials:

"Jeff, your presentation was informative, thought-provoking, and entertaining. You kept the audience engaged and entertained. Most importantly, your refreshing and pertinent concepts are relevant to any business or organization."

- Sam Trusner, Manager
Athletic Equipment Management Association

"Jeff, Your energy, wit and creativity challenged our minds to expand possibilities. You had our audience engaged and beginning to see how the typical contractor's approach to problems are far to often limited by convenient knowledge and experience. You gave a solid and valuable presentation. Thank you!"

- Jim Baty, Executive Director
Concrete Foundation Association

Jeff has spent over 30 years on stage in front of audiences and more years working on how to think creatively and overcome challenges by not quitting too soon.

He's discovered that people can achieve a lot more simply by doing a little bit more and sticking to something a little bit longer.

Jeff speaks to businesses and associations about the tools that are needed in order to achieve more and get better results in both your personal and business life.
